2015 was the first year that the transport sector hosted a Clean Mobility Reception. The intention of the reception is intended to celebrate progress in raising the profile of transport in global discussions on climate change and sustainable development. It also serves as an opportunity to build networks and alliances with negotiators and people from outside the transport sector. Lastly it is an opportunity to thank sponsors of the PPMC and enable them to network. Last year's Clean Mobility Reception on December 3rd was attended by over 250 persons and was considered a great success.

TRANSfer Project Background

The TRANSfer project is a project run by GIZ and funded by the International Climate Initiative of the German Ministry for the Environment, Nature Conservation, Building and Nuclear Safety (BMUB). Its objective is to support developing countries to develop and implement climate change mitigation strategies in the transport sector as „Nationally Appropriate Mitigation Actions“ (NAMAs). Activities at country and international level are closely linked and designed in a mutually beneficial way. While specific country experience is broad to the international stage (bottom-up) to facilitate appropriate consideration of transport sector specifics in the climate change regime, recent developments in the climate change discussions are fed into the work in the partner countries (top-down).
